MILK LEG. DREADFUL ULCER—PALPITATION, WEAKNESS—MOTHER AND DAUGHTER CURED—HAMPTON'S TINCTURE TRIUMPHANT!

HUNDREDS OF OUR OWN CITIZENS, the Rich, the Poor, everywhere, bear the same TESTIMONY.

Read the following certificate from a lady, endorsed by Postmaster E. P. Cooper:

CAPON BRIDGE, }
Hampshire county, Va., March 1, 1854. }

Mr. E. P. Cooper.—Dear Sir: Agreeable to your request, and my own desire to benefit the afflicted, I hereby certify the great relief I received from the use of HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE.

I was taken with a violent palpitation, or rather fluttering of the heart, which continued several days; it seemed as though my heart had almost forgotten its office. The family became alarmed and procured a bottle of this valuable medicine, and before I had taken near one bottle of this valuable medicine, and before I had taken near one bottle of this TINCTURE OF HAMPTON'S I was entirely relieved.

This is the third instance of relief in my family by the use of this valuable medicine. Two or three years ago, I was laid up with ulceration of my ankle, from the effect of what is usually called a milk leg. I had lost all taste and appetite; and the sore which was some four inches up and down, and half-way around my ankle, rejected every effort to heal it, until I procured HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE, one bottle of which restored my health healed my ankle, and I am freer from swelling than the last thirty years.

Again, one of my daughters was very low from severe disentery, and when she began to sit up her feet commenced swelling which increased every day, to be very painful—she used a bottle of Hampton's Tincture; the pains were assuaged, the swellings subsided and her health returned—we kept her legs bandaged with strips of woollen until her strength returned.

I have been thus particular, that others, under similar circumstances, might be induced to avail themselves of this remedy.

Yours with respect,

I do hereby certify that I am personally quainted with Mrs. Edwards, and can safely commend the above statement to be correct.

E. P. COOPER, Postmaster,
Capon Bridge, Hampshire co., Va.

Delicate ladies and children will please give it a trial.

REV. VERNON ESKRIDGE, U. S. N. }
Portsmouth, Va., Aug., 18, 1851. }

MR. J. E. BOUSH.—Sir, While I am in general opposed to Patent Medicines, candor compels me to state that I have great confidence in the virtues of HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE. For several months past I have used it in my family, and in dispepsia, loss of appetite, dizziness and general debility, with entire success. So far as my experience extends therefore, I take pleasure in recommending it to the afflicted, as a safe and efficient remedy.

I am respectfully yours,
VERNON ESKRIDGE,
Chaplain U. S. N.

A boy in the family of Hon. W. P. Thommasson, once member of Congress from Kentucky, was a mass of sores from head to foot. His eye lids turned inside out, protruding over the eyeballs so as to produce blindness. He was cured by Hampton's Vegetable Tincture.

BOOK AND STATIONERY STORE.
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

W. P. GRIFFITH, having dissolved his connection with the firm of Vickery & Griffith, would respectfully inform the citizens of Elizabeth City and of the surrounding country, that he has opened at the store formerly occupied by the late Mr. R. C. Barclay,

The largest and best stock of Books and Stationery ever offered for sale in the City of Norfolk.

Believing that the wants and the tastes of the people required one establishment similar to those found in the large Northern cities, where a full and general assortment of Books can be obtained, the subscriber has been induced, during a recent visit to Philadelphia, New York and Boston, to purchase from the principal publishers, and at the great "Trade Sales," a superior stock of

School, Classical, Law, Medical, Theological, Religious and Miscellaneous

BOOKS.

Which will, upon examination, compare with any to be found in the Southern country.

My Stock of Foreign and American

STATIONERY.

Is very large and complete, it has been selected with great care, and embraces every article required for the School and Counting Room.

MY WHOLE STOCK IS ENTIRELY
—NEW,—

and has been bought upon the very best terms and a large portion for cash, which gives me a decided advantage over all other houses in the city, and will enable me to sell my goods at prices far below former rates.

Booksellers in this and adjacent Towns and Country Merchants, will find it greatly to their advantage to examine my stock before going North.

Colleges, Schools and Teachers, will be supplied at Northern prices.

By special arrangements with the following houses, I shall receive their new Books as they are issued from the Press, and will supply any or all of their publications at their prices:

J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia.

'YOUNG AMERICA'
CORN AND COB MILL,
MANUFACTURED BY
S. MARCH, Norfolk, Va.

THE above Mill, which so far surpassed all others last season, has been improved, and made stronger and better than ever, and is now in the field carrying everything before it. It is the mill for strength, durability and swiftness.

I annex a list of premiums it has received this season, over the 'Little Giant,' 'Magic Mill,' Star Mill, Maynard's Mill, and all others that have come into competition with it:

First premium at the N. York State Fair.
First premium at the Ohio State Fair.
First premium at the Michigan State Fair.
First premium at the N. Carolina State Fair.
First premium at the Nashville (Tenn.) Fair.
First premium at one County Fair in N. York.
First premium at ten County Fairs in Ohio.

Trial of corn and cob mills at the North Carolina State Fair, October 1855.

The following table will show the time occupied by each of the Mills on exhibition in grinding half bushel of corn and cobs:

Young America, 2 minutes and 40 seconds.
Little Giant, 4 " 55 "
Magic Mill, 6 "
Sinclair & Co's Mill, two trials, average time, 6 minutes and 58 seconds.

Advantages of the Young America or Excelsior Mill over all others: 1st, great strength and durability; 2d, simplicity, (having but one set screw to graduate the quality of grinding, which renders it so simple that it may be managed by any ordinary farm hand;) 3d, it will grind more corn, or corn and cob, in the same time, and of same quality, than any other mill in use of the same size; 4th, economy—that part of the mill which is most liable to wear, being separate from the main body of the machine, can be renewed when worn out, at the small cost of $3. Thus in the Young America or Excelsior mill, I present the best, cheapest and most durable mill ever offered to the Farmer. This mill is of large size and greater capacity than any other mill ever sold at the same price

Price, including extra plates, $50.

I am also manufacturing Cart and Wagon Wheels, Farm Wagons, Carts, Trucks, Drays, Plows, Harrows, Cultivators, Corn Shellers, and Agricultural Implements generally, and am better prepared to furnish farmers and merchants than any other house in the city.

Call and examine my stock and be convinced that it is to your interest to patronize Southern enterprize. I am unwilling to believe that all the men in Virginia and North Carolina prefer to build up the North and impoverish the South.

I have also a Foundry connected with my factory, and solicit orders for Castings generally.

S. MARCH,
dec 9 Norfolk, Va.

PLOWS—All farmers who study their interest, know the importance of good plowing. To enable them to accomplish this necessary work, PLOWS take pleasure in imparting the information that I have recently added to my very large stock of Plows 18 entirely new patterns, for one, PLOWS. two and three horses, all of which I warrant to work to the entire satisfaction of all who will give PLOWS. them a trial, and I further guarantee that the castings will wear twice as long as those in ordinary PLOWS use. POTENCY OF CASH.

In this age of iron, of bronze and of brass,
When a man without money is set down as an ass,
'Tis absurd in extreme to talk of the sense
Of those who have neither fat purses or pence.
What is virtue but straw, a thing out of use.
Which subjects the possessor to constant abuse?—
Since morals and conscience were only designed
To fetter the masses,—the rough unrefined—
While the leader of ton, the jockies and flirts,
The one in crushed hats, the other hooped skirts,
Give tone to the fashions, both in-door and out,
From summer retreats to a family bout.
But morals, however, are no part of song,
As sentiment, fashion and love with bank stock belong,
To a schedule in high life that's quite above stairs,
And has nothing to do with family prayers.
How delightful to be on the uppermost round
Of the ladder of fame where merit is found,
Provided it's by some ancestral wall,
Like wealth in abundance comes at your call.
Pray what is a name without money or stocks?
And who cares for genius sans pocket of rocks?
How vulgar that wit not sustained by the tin,
Which surpasses in weight any graces within Delightful the thought that society can
Raise to a position a woman or man
From the mud of an alley, the stench of a stall,
Provided they're willing to pay for the call.
Mr. Little is great, Col. Bigg is too small,
Miss Brown ever fair, Miss Short really tall,
To the vision of those who estimate worth
By what others possess, through stealing or birth;—
A rogue Is transformed by the magic of chink,
To become in the chain a mighty strong link,
Because its no crime for Bogus to fail,
To set up a coach, too, though creditors rail.
Who swindles the most is shrewdest in trade,—
And many a fortune in that way is made.
What fair one in market o'er turned up her nose,
Or demurred at an offer does any suppose,
Where Cupid sat belt up on a bag of fine gold,
Let the owner be hump-backed, a noodle, or old?
Matrimonial bliss is sold in the shops,
Just as butchers sell mutton, beef-steaks or chops.
Having opened the budget to let you peep in,
Where social relations are known to begin,
In the City at first, at Newport the last—
Let us contemplate here young America fast.
Society damns, society sustains
Only those who have purses without any brains.
Of what possible use is a disciplined mind,
A heart or a conscience with manners refined?
Go where we may, he is brightest and best
Who has the least sense, and more cash than the rest.
He may snub his own father, act the ape or a lord,
Get drunk at his liesure,—and forfeit his word—
His sins are forgiven, though he riots it free
By the fairest of fair o'er their scandal and tea
We who live in glass houses turn an eye to the West,
Where the prairie grass waves and power rears her crest;
Contrast with reflection the glories that rise
In those beautiful fields, streamlets,—and skies,
Political humbugs, the yeild of the East,
The unsatisfying food on which millions now feast,
Concocted by statesmen, whose yearly behest
Is to agitate Kansas, where saints are oppressed;
Who bleed well for moonshine, yet firm as a rock
See others bleed more who buy emmigrant stock,
Give aid to the hypocrites, ay, plank down the gold,
Head off the vile wretches whom their birth right have sold
For an interest in cotton,—the bags or a gin,
To gloat on possessions we know to be sin.
Agitate, agitate, keep the world in commotion,
In the air, in the earth and through the wide ocean;
Let the passions rage on till all liberty flies.
And by agitation our liberty dies.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A REMARKABLE MAGICIAN—THE NECROMANCER IN ALGERIA.

Every one has seen, or heard speak of, the great Robert Houdin. Besides being the prince of conjurors, he is an able mathematician and mechanician, and his electric clock, made for the Hotel de Ville of his native town of Blois, obtained a medal at the Paris exhibition. It is not generally known that he was sent to Algeria by the French Government on a mission connected with the black art—probably the first time that a conjuror has been called upon to exercise his profession in Government employ. Some details of his exhibition have been published. Its object was to destroy the influence exercised among the Arab tribes by the Marabouts—who by a few clumsy tricks and the assistance of finesse often pass themselves off as sorcerers. Houdin, it was justly thought, was better able to eclipse their skill and discredit their sciences than the men of gunpowder and bottles.

One of the great pretensions of the Marabouts was to invulnerability. At a moment that a loaded musket was fired at him, and the trigger pulled, he pronounced a few cabalistic words and the weapon did not go off. Houdin detected the trick and showed that the tube hole was plugged. The Arab wizard was furious, and abused his French rival. 'You may revenge yourself,' quietly replied Houdin; 'take a pistol; load it yourself; here are bullets; put one in the barrel; but before doing so mark it with your knife.' The Arab did as he was told. 'You are quite certain now,' said Houdin, 'that the pistol is loaded and will go off. Tell me, do you feel no remorse in killing me thus, notwithstanding that I authorize you?' 'You are my enemy,' coolly replied the Arab; 'I will kill you.' Without replying, Houdin stuck an apple on the point of a knife, and calmly gave the word to fire.

The pistol was discharged, the apple flew far away, and there appeared in its place, stuck on the point of the knife, the ballet the Marabout had marked.

The spectators remained mute from admiration; the Marabout bowed before his superior. 'Allah is great!' he said, 'I am vanquished.' Instead of the bottle from which, in Europe, Robert Houdin pours an endless stream of every description of wine and liquor, he called for an empty bowl, which he kept continually full of boiling coffee, but few of the Arabs would taste it, for they made sure that it came direct from the devil's own coffee pot. He then told them that it was in his power to deprive them of all strength, and to restore it to them at will, and he produced a small box, so little that a child could hide it within his finger; but it suddenly became so heavy that the strongest man present could not raise it, and the Arabs, who prize physical strength above everything, looked with terror at the 'great magician who, they doubted not, could annihilate them by the mere exertion of his will. They expressed this belief; Houdin confirmed them in it, and promised that, on a day appointed, he would convert one of them into smoke. The day came; the throng was prodigious; a fanatical Marabout had agreed to give himself up to the sorcerer. They made him stand upon a table and covered him with a transparent gauze; then Houdin and another person lifted the table by the two ends, and the Arab disappeared in a cloud of smoke.

The terror of the spectators was indescribable; they rushed out of the place, and ran a long distance before some of the boldest thought of returning to look after the Marabout. They found him near the place where he had been evaporated, but he could tell them nothing, and was like a drunken man, ignorant of what had happened to him. Thenceforward Houdin was venerated, and the Mar

A HAPPY BURLESQUE.

If Matt Pell, of the counterfeit darkey fraternity, had been upon the levee yesterday, he might have got a happy wrinkle in his line from the performance of the genuine colored gentry. The carte for this entertainment was a burlesque auction sale. One of the darkey men, selected for his tonguey qualities, mounted a box, and in good set auctioneer phrase announced to a large assemblage of idle negro laborers that he was now about to offer them, for cash, 'to de highis bidder in dis crowd, a fus rate boy. A 1, soun and healty, warranted not to out in de eye, walk in de step, nor steal chickens dat dont't 'long to him; also 'ditional, dis boy wars only one par shoes a year, an' dey's good at de eend of it, takes keer on his close particklar, an' nebber goes cortin'; don't go to sleep ober his work, is 'spectful an' 'bedient; is six foot tre inches high, weighs two hundred and twenty poun, an' can do more work in a house or fiel' dan any order two niggers; 'sides he eat less dan any order one nigger. Step up hyar, Sam, an' show yourself to dese gemman! Libely now! Der he is, gemmen! 'Mire hi n for yourselves!'

And the sable auctioneer pointed with triumphant gestures to the subject of extravagant eulogium—a scrubby, knotted, runted, gray headed specimen of field hand, about four feet and a half high, who mounted the box beside him, amid vast roars of laughter from the crowd.

'Dar he is, gemmen! 'zamine him an' start him at suffin, for he mus' be sole! What does you say?' Several colored gemmen mounted the stand and proceeded to 'zamine him. One violently pulled his mouth open, and reported—'dis nigger too much—one jaw toof done gone.' Another tried to straighten out a lock of his wool, with—'don't like dis—b'ar kink too much—nigger lazy.' Another pretended to discover something besides idens running through his wool, and concluded 'nigger's head too poplar' (populous.) Another said 'nigger's feet too long an' slim—long feet nigger will steal and run way: long foot nigger ain't worf jail fees.' Another—'nigger's toe nails too long—cratch paint off my parlor floor. No wants dis nigger! Yah! Hy ah! Yais' Yah!'

'Well, gemmen! is you done looking at dat nigger? Is you satisfy? He's a prime lot! What do you say for the boy? Start him at suffin! He's got to be sole—prumptory sale!'

'Ten cent!' came from the laughing crowd. Ten cent!—ten cent! Going at ten cent—ten—ten—ten.'

'One dime,' from the crowd. 'Tank you sar? One dime, one dime—go i-in' at one dime—d-i-m-e? Too bad, gemmen, make me sacrifize dis article dat way? Say 'leben?'

'One bit,' from the crowd. 'Much 'bliged, sar! one bit—one bit—bit—bit—bit—bit goin'—goin'—won't nobody say 'leben for dis A 1, warranted,' &c., 'boy? goin' at one bit—goin', g-o-i-n—at ten cent? Yours, sar, an' a dog sight more dan he's worth!' And he knocked down the property to the quasi purchaser with a tremendous blow on the head with a barrel stave he used as a hammer, which broke it in the middle, and knocked down the sold party off the box without his apparently feeling the blow, so massive was the conformation of his cranium. That was the greatest auction sale that ever we saw.—True Delta.

CAUGHT THE PANIC.—A tall, lank, Jerusalem sort of a fellow, pretty well under the influence of Mr. Alcohol, was observed swinging to a lamp post on Fifth street last night. He was talking quite loud to the afore said post, when a guardian of the night approached him

"Come, sir, you are making too much noise," said the watchman.

'Noise! who's that said noise?' asked the post holder, as he skewed his head and endeavored in vain to give the intruder a sober look.

'It was me replied the watchman, as he exposed his silvered numbers to full view.

'You! and who in the d—l are you. It taint me that's a making of the noise. They are a breakin', a crashin', and a smashin' of things to an incredible amount, Noise? It's the bankers that are a makin' of the noise. They are a cussin,' a rippin', and a stavin' all round. It's the brokers that are a makin' of the nois. They are a hollerin', an' a yelpin, and a creechin', like wild Injuns, over the times, that worsers everybody but themselves. No, sir, it tant me that's a makin' of the noise.'

'You are as tight as a brick in a new wall,' said the officer, amused at the good nature of the individual.

'Me tight? Who said I am tight? No, sir, you are mistaken. It's not me that's tight It's money that's tight. Go down on third street, an' they'll tell you there that money is tight. Go into the workshops, an' you find money is tight. Read the newspapers an' you'll find out that it's money that's tight. Me tight? I've got nary red, but Kankakee, and the devil could'nt get tight on that. No, sir, I'm not tight.

'Then you are drunk.'

'Drunk? Stranger yer out of it again. The world's drunk. The hull community is a stagger in' 'round, buttin' their heads agin stones walls and askining' of their noses on the curbstone of adversity. Yes, sir, we're all drunk—that is, everybody's drunk but me. I'm sober, sober as a police judge on a rainy day. I ain't drunk; no, sir, stranger, I ain't drunk"

'What are you making such a fool of yourself for them?'

'Fool? Sir, I'm no fool I'm distressed. I've catched the contagion. I'm afflicted.'

'Are you sick?'

'Exactly.'

'What's the matter with you?'

'I've got the panics.'

'The panics, sir; it's a going to carry off this town. I tried to escape by hard drink, but it's no use. The panics have got me, sure.'

The watchman more amused than ever, tendered his sympathy, and, what was better, his aid to the panic stricken individual. In the course of half an hour he had the pleasure of putting him in the door of his boarding house, and pointing out to him the best remedy—a soft bed and long slumber.—Cin. Times

THE OVERFLOWING CUP.

A company of Southern ladies were one day assembled in a friend's parlor, when the conversation chanced to turn on earthly affliction. Each had her story of peculiar trial and bereavements to relate, except one pale, sad looking woman, whose lustreless eye and dejected air showed that she was a prey to the deepest melancholy. Suddenly arousing herself, she said in a hollow voice, 'Not one of you know what trouble is.'

'Will you please, Mrs. Gray?' said the kind voice of a lady who well knew her story, 'tell the ladies what you call trouble.'

'I will if you desire,' she replied, 'for I have seen it. My parents possessed a competence, and my girlhood was surrounded by all the comforts of life. I seldom knew an ungratified wish, and was always gay and light-hearted. I married at nineteen one I loved more than the world besides. Our home was retired, but the sunlight never fell on a lovelier one or a happier household. Years rolled on peacefully. Five children sat around our table, and a little curly head still nestled in my bosom. One night about sun down one of those fierce black storms came on, which are so common in our Southern climate For many hours the rain poured down incessantly. Morning dawned, still the elements raved. The whole Savannah seemed afloat. The little stream near our dwelling became a raging torrent. Before we were aware of it our house was surrounded by water; I managed with my babe to reach a little elevated spot, on which a few wide spreading trees were standing, whose dense foliage afforded some protection, while my husband and sons strove to save what they could of our property. At last a fearful surge swept away my husband and he never rose again.—Ladies—no on loved a husband more—but that was no trouble.

'Presently my sons saw their danger, the struggle for life became the only consideration. They were brave loving boys as ever blessed a mother's heart, and I watched their effortr to escape with such agony as only mothers can feel. They were so far off I could not speak to them but I could see them closing nearer and nearer to each other, as their little island grew smaller and smaller.

'The Suilen river ranged around the huge trees; dead branches, upturned trunks wrecks of houses drowning cattle and masses of rubbish, all were floating past us.—My boys waved their hands to me, then pointed upwards. I knew it was a farewell signal, and you, mothers cannot imagine my anguish: I saw them all perish and yet—that was no trouble.

'I hugged my little baby to my heart, and when the water rose to my feet, I climed into the low branches of the tree, and so kept retiring before it, until an All powerful Hand stayed the waves, that they should come no farther. I was saved.—All my worldly possessions were swept away; till my earthly hopes blighted—yet that was not trouble.

'My baby was all I had left on earth. I labored night and day to support him and myself, and sought to train him in the right way; but he grew older, evil companions won him from me He ceased to care for his mother's counsels: he would sneer at her entreaties and agonizing prayers. He left my humble roof that he might be unrestrained in the pursuit of evil; and at last when heated by wine one night, he took the life of a fellow being, and ended his own upon the scaffold. My Heavenly Father had filled my cup of sorrow before, but now it ran over. That was trouble ladies, such as I hope His mercy will spare you from experiencing.

There was no dry eye among her listeners, and the warmest sympathy was expressed for the bereaved mother, whose sad history has taught them a useful lesson.

"BACKED ON A SWITCH TO UNLOAD."

Methodist preachers, as a class, are remarkable for the use of homely, but pertinent illustrations. A case in point occurred at the session of the Illinois Conference held at Decatur, and is related by Mr. Eddy, the able and genial editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate. A member of the Conference asked for a location; his pecuniary affairs had became embarrassed, and he wished to take time to straighten them out. He told the Conference that he still had the heart of an itinerant, and that if God spared him he would come on again. Said he, "Bretherin I have not run off the track: I have simply backed on to a switch to unload."

Every body will at once see the opposition and force of the illustration. It was better than an hour's speech. Meanwhile, it will probably strike our readers that the condition of this brother is precisely that of the whole country at the present moment. Pecuniary embarrassments prevails universally. Every body is in debt, finance and exchanges are disorganized, and the wheels of commerce stand still. But let no one believe that the engine with its train has run off the track—'it has only backed on to a switch to unload,' and when that shall have been accomplished, it will go thundering on again as has been its wont heretofore. We thank the brother for the illustration, and trust that both he and the country will soon find themselves 'running again on time.

GEN. HAVELOCK.—Gen. Havelock, whose hazardous position and deeds of bravery in India have made his name famous, is not only a soldier but a preacher. He is a member of the Baptist Church in Calcutta, and is said by the missionarg Kincaid, who knows him well, to be a devoted Christian. He has been accustomed to carry with him a preaching tent, in which to exercise his personal gifts as a preacher of the gospel. His influence has been great and good.

Several other officers of the British Indian army are religious men, and have rendered essential aid to the cause of missions. The progress of years have wrought great moral improvement among the employees of the British government in India, both in the civil and military departments, as well as among the English residents generally. This change is, no doubt, attributable, in a measure, to the influence of Christian missionaries in giving a higher tone to society.

☞ The new Episcopal Church will be opened with Divine service on Sunday, the 13th of December. An appropriate sermon will be preached. The public are invited to attend. Pews free to all.

THE MORMON REBELLION.

With the exception, possibly, of the slavery question, Mormonism is the most embarrassing problem in the domestic administration of the General Government. Indeed, this is a more perplexing difficulty than the other,—for while the majority of people are agreed that the institutions of the South are quite beyond the action of Federal authority, a very large party of conservative citizens deny that Mormonism can claim any such immunity. In some of its incidents slavery may be offensive to the delicate susceptibilities of abolitionism, but in its essence there is nothing repugnant to civilization, humanity or religion. Above all, it lies at the foundation of our social system, and is interwoven with the fabric of our Government.

Mormonism, on the contrary, is an excrescence upon the surface; and so far from pretending to legal recognition, is in fact at war with every idea of Republican liberty. It is idle to talk of technical distinctions when matters of the greatest moment are involved in the controversy. If we make no account of the conscience of the nation, we must allow that polygamy is incompatible with the character of the race, with the type of its civilization, and the structure of its social order. Nor is that all. In Mormonism, religion and the State are united in a system of theocracy utterly irreconcilable with the principles of free government. The chief of the sect is an absolute despot The priesthood constitute an order of nobility, and the women are degraded to a condition of abject servitude In a word, the community is organized upon principles which place it in desructive hostility to individual liberty and political equality. With this manifest and essential antagonism between Mormonism and Republicanism, it is vain to argue from the protection of slavery to the toleration of polygamy. The two things do not stand in the same relation to abstract reason and positive law. There never was a Republic without slavery; but polygamy is always found in juxtaposition with the worst type of tyranny — The existence of the one is incompatible with our religion and our liberties; from the other, both religion and liberty draw their strongest and surest support.

Despite this theoretical and actual incompatibility between the system of society in Utah and the system of law and religion which prevails in the Confederacy, the Government has betrayed the greatest uncertainty and embarrassment in the treatment of Mormonism. At first the thing was regarded with contempt. Afterward, when its power began to be exhibited with annoying effect, the Federal Government actually undertook to conciliate its favor by important concessions. President Fillmore exalted the chief of the sect to the governorship of a territory. With equal or even greater folly, President Pierce retained him in office after the discovery of his insubordinate spirit. By this policy Mormonism has been pampered into an enormous development. It is no longer the despicable imposture of a handful of corrupt men and crazy women. Its evils are not obscured by distance or disguised by fear. It is a power in the country, and its abuses are vauntingly paraded in the eyes of the nation. It insults religion by its impious pretensions. It outrages society by its indecent exhibitions. It defies the authority of government by unequivocal acts of resistance. Still, Congress was silent and the Executive inactive. There are difficulties about the matter which the genius of Red-tapeism cannot surmount. The enterprise demands a vigor of purpose and a directness of action quite beyond the resources of the Circumlocution Office. Statesman shake their wise heads in doubt and dismay, and the country begins to regard the evil as incurable, when on a sudden Mormonism cuts the gordian knot and challenges the Confederacy to a trial of arms If the rulers of Utah had adhered to the policy which they were compelled to pursue in the day of their weakness,—if they had persisted in professions of loyalty to the Union, and had abstained from any offensive display of their polygamous practices,—if they had been content to consolidate their strength in the seclusion of their inaccessible retreat, and had avoided any collision with the federal forces,—if they could have put this judicious restraint upon their passions and their ambition, they might have escaped observation until their power grew so great as to defy the attacks of a distant and divided adversary. Happily for the issue of the struggle and the peace of the country, Mormon pride got the better of prudence. The success of the imposture will prove its ruin. Insolent from the unconciousness of their own strength and the unwise concessions of the Federal Government, the saints of Salt Lake disdain even an appearance of respect for the authority of the Gentiles They bear an army is coming to reduce them to obedience; but, so far from offering ov rtures of submission, they make ostentatious parade of preparation to repel the invasion. Nay, they are not satisfied to stand upon the defensive, but sallying out from their mountain fastness, strike the first blow and begin the battle.

By this unaccountable act of folly, the Mormon rulers at once surrender all the advantages of their position and expose themselves to swift and inevitable retribution Now at last the Government is under no necessity to temporize. No technicle difficulty impedes its action Its authority is openly renounced, its power defied, and its vengeance laughed to scorn. It is not polygamy, it is not theocricy, it is not a privileged order of priesthood, against which the United States have to assert the principles of Republican government and Christian civilization. They had no scruple of popular sovereignty to surmount; no refinement of political casuistry to break through. The way is clear, and every obligation of duty and self respect impels them to instant and energetic action.—They have to crush an open rebellion, and to maintain their authority over a community of avowed outlaws. Will they hesitate? Will the Executive shrink from its duty? Will Congress exhaust itself in irrelevant and ineffectual debate? We hope not, for the credit of the country.—If the Union is to be anything more than an organized anarchy, let it lose no time in asserting its supremacy in its legitimate sphere. Except the Federal Government be no better than an elaborate antithesis of real power, it will encounter little difficulty in the suppression of the Mormon revolt.—Rich. South.

GODWIN & QUILLIN, Proprietors.

TUESDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 1, 1857.

ANOTHER MOVE OF THE OPPOSITION.

We have become so much accustomed to the manouvrings of the opponents of the Democratic party, that we have ceased to regard with any degree of surprise the boldest attempts to win power of which they may be guilty. They are capable of astonishing feats; and had we not have witnessed so many exhibitions of their consummate skill in ground and lofty tumbling, that which they now advertise to perform would be regarded by us a trick to test the credulity of the lovers of the wonderful. Knowing, however, from observation, their unrivaled powers in this sort of exercise, we view the proposition as made in good faith and with a determination to attempt its fulfillment.

We scarce need remind the reader of, or trace the course of the opposition for the last several years; it is too well known. How they stood in the last trial of strength in this State is also remembered. What they now propose to do merits some slight notice The Raleigh Register has brought forward a plan for the summer campaign, which deserves some credit for boldness, if not for ingenuity. This plan it says has been endorsed by a majority of the papers in the State opposed to the Democracy, and may therefore be received as the policy which is to control the next canvass. The scheme is nothing more or less than a total disruption of the present Know-Nothing organization; an abandonment of every issue that originally formed the platform of that party, and, discarding the many aspirants for political preferment to be found in its own ranks, to select from the Democratic party a standard-bearer for the next Gubernatorial contest. Such is the suggestion, in substance, of the Register. That paper says: "As a party those with whom we have acted, and now act, are powerless. WE ARE NOT IN THE FIELD EVEN." And in support of the plan to which we have alluded, it adds in another article:

"From nearly all quarters of the State we find that our suggestion as to the policy proper to be pursued by the party with which we co-operate, in the coming Gubernatorial canvass, is approved. This policy, we respectfully think, is obvious enough to secure the approbation of every Whig and American who will calmly and dispassionately look at the subject in all its aspects. It is well known, that at least one-third of the Democratic party of the State are in favor of distribution, and would so declare themselves to be, if they could, at the polls, vote on the naked question of Distribution or No Distribution, or what would be the same thing, have an opportunity to choose between two Democrats, one who favored distribution, while the other was against it."

There it is, clearly defined. In the advice given by the Register, what becomes of all those boasted principles of the "American" party, upon the establishment of which the very existence of the Union depended? Distribution is the only measure for which it proposes to fight. The representative of this measure must be a democrat; he may be the most violent anti-Know-Nothing in the State—perhaps a foreigner or a Catholic, or both—he may have waged a war of extermination to the dark-lanternites; denounced them in the most bitter terms, and agreeing with them upon the single issue of a distribution of the public lands—an issue ignored until the last canvass—will receive their votes. There is no mistaking the suggestion; it is clear and distinct, and exhibits the beautiful consistency of our opponents. The proposition is a commentary upon their boasted adherence to great principles, and the sincerity of their former professions. The Know-Nothing party is advised by the leading organ in the State, to stop fighting upon its own responsibility, to pull down the flag that it has sworn shall wave above it; to desert the cause to which it had pledged an undeviating devotion, and to throw itself body and soul into the arms of a portion of its old enemies—having but a solitary principle in common. Who could have believed that such a proposal would ever have emanated from the RALEIGH REGISTER?—Surely we live in strange times.

Is the Sentinel prepared to endorse the scheme? Will it at last come to support a "locofoco," even though it be a distribution "locofoco"? What say you, neighbor?

FAREWELL SERMON.

The Rev. Mr. Dalby, for the last twelve months located in this place, preached his farewell sermon on last Sunday morning to a large and deeply interested congregation, previous to his leaving for his new appointment—Leesburg. The ministerial labors of Mr. Dalby, for the past year, have been attended with much good to his church—whilst his exemplary christian deportment, gentlemanly bearing, and many social qualities has given him a hold upon the respect and esteem of our people, that causes his departure from our midst to be generally regretted. We wish him an agreeable sojourn with those among whom he is now called to labor.

☞ The Editor of the Sentinel has given us another round of small shot, and, as we are informed, taken his departure for the City of Oaks. We are now aware of his absence, and at the risk of a repetition of the charge of "honorable treatment," shall reply to his article in Saturday's issue. It begins by asking us "what article" we "refer to as being groundless?" and "what have we (the Editor of the Sentinel) said or done that is preposterous?" We referred particularly to your last article, but the charge will apply to all you have ever indited against the Democratic party. Your asssertions generally upon political matters we regard as preposterous, and in none more than the one we are now replying to. In regard to our not taking "the position—we (you) asked you (us) to take" we most respectfully say, that we desire to think and act for ourself; and were we disposed to pin our faith to the sleeve of another, we should certainly select as our guide, one that had at least the merit of consistency, not the man who was a Whig one day, a Know Nothing the next, then an American whig, and heaven only knows what he will be to-morrow. In the absence of all other reasons for following our own judgment, the ever changing, variable, vascillating, propensities of a Know Nothing editor would forbid our confidense in his opinions. We advocate Democratic principles, because we believe them to be right, and we support Mr. Buchanan because we believe him to be the representative of those principles. We condemn Walker for the reason that he has transcended his instructions, been guilty of an officious interference in the affairs of Kansas, and proven himself a traitor to the South. We sustain the executive, because of its strict adherence to the Constitution of the country, its firm maintainance of the principles of the Kansas Nebraska bill, and of its expressed censure of the course of Walker. Is the Sentinel answered?

We think it is an established principle that every man is supposed to be innocent until proven to be guilty. The antecedents of Walker were good, his appointment was satisfactory to the South; his conduct since has not only deceived the President, but it has taken the country by surprise. To use the argument of a contemporary, Arnold was selected by Washington for a high and responsible position; he became a traitor—was Washington guilty of appointing a traitor? Such is the argument of the Sentinel; Walker has violated the confidence of the President and we believe he will be removed.

The Sentinel pleads guilty to the charge, by implication if nothing else, and we defy the editor to deny the charge in his own case, of having denounced the repeal of the Missouri restriction, and answers it in the following satisfactory manner:

"And if Know Nothing papers denounced the Kansas bill, they only did what the loco foco papers did in the compromise of 1850."

Now neighbor would you call that a suppressio vari or not? Is the case a parallel one? We thank you however for the reference. Upon the introduction of the compromise measures of 1850 many of the Democratic party did oppose them, because they contended the South was to be the loser by the bargain. That bill contained five distinct propositions; viz, the Fugitive slave bill which was nothing more nor less than a re-enacting of a provision of the constitution, and which we assert was nothing gained to the South, for if abolitionism would not carry out in good faith the Constitution, they would find a way to evade the provision of that bill, however stringent. The result has proven the truth of the position. Next, the admission of California as a free State; then the abolishment of the slave trade in the District of Columbia, and the territorial bills for Utah and New Mexico which contained the principle of non-intervention—afterwards engrafted upon the Kansas-Nebraska bill—the only thing gained to the South. As a one sided compromise the democrats justly opposed it. It was adopted What was their course afterward? We will let the Sentinel answer the question.

"But no sooner were they passed than these same loco foco papers wheeled into line, and were the loudest in their praise. Look to the Platforms of both parties Democrat and Whig in 1852 and what do you see, why that the compromise of 1850 should be a finality by both parties on the vexed question of slavery."

Yes, "no sooner were they passed" than the Democracy wheeled into line, and like true men gave in to the law of the land, supported them in good faith, and were willing to make them a finality. What else should they have done? Did not duty, patriotism, and justice require this course? Was it not an evidence of their love of law and a commendable acquiescence in the will of the majority? Before the passage of these resolutions, they opposed them because they were regarded as sacrificing the interests of the South, and a yielding to Northern aggression. When adopted, opposition ceased, and their provisions were observed faithfully and to the letter. Compare this course with the conduct of the opposition in regard to the repeal of the Compromise of 1820. Notwithstanding the strong Southern vote given upon this repeal; notwithstanding that it was adopted as the future policy of the government; notwithstanding that the abrogation of an infamous and detestable prohibition was effected, and that the South was placed, by a solemn Congressional enactment, upon a level with the other States of the Union; we find a bitter denunciation, a vindictive opposition, an unscrupulous warfare commenced by the Know-Nothings of the South in conjunction with their allies of the North, and we may say that the last presidential contest was fought upon the principle contained in the repeal of the Missouri Compromise. It was the law of the land; did Know-Nothingism regard this, and cease their assaults, and show its willingness to abide the decree? Nothing of the kind. It repudiated it in its famous platform; it repudiated it in its endorsement of Millard Fillmore, who denouaced it as a Pandora's box; it repudiated it in the wholesale abuse that was and is lavished upon the men who were instrumental in its passage.—And not until the conduct of Walker gave them an opportunity of manufacturing a little political capital, did they aspire to be the friends of the doctrine of non-intervention.

In speaking of the Compromise of 1850, the Sentinel asks the following question, and answers it in its usual sensible manner:

"Who broke that contract a contract made and entered into by some of the great leading men of both parties—honest,—upright and patriotic men—why the Democratic party, and how by introducing the Kansas bill, and what was that bill introduced for?"

Did any one ever hear of the "contract" being broken, except by the abolitionists refusing to recognize the non-intervention principle as applied to the territories of Utah and New Mexico. If we understand it rightly, the Kansas-Nebraska bill but re-affirmed the doctrine therein enunciated. As contained in the bill of 1850, it applied only to the territories above named; it was general instead of local; it was rendered general in its application by the passage of the Kansas-Nebraska bill. Please inform us, Mr. Sentinel, in direct terms, in what manner the compromise of 1850 was violated by the bill of 1854 No evasion; but come right to the point. We would also like to know, since you are so greatly exercised in relation to Walker and Kansas, how slavery could ever have existed in the territory under the Missouri compromise, which you have since denounced? Will you answer?

THE VIRGINIA ANNUAL CONFERENCE

closed its session on Thursday night about 9 o'clock. Our last contained a synopsis of the proceedings up to Monday evening. Tuesday was set a part for the trial of C. A. Davis, charged with improper conduct by the stewards of the Portsmouth, Va. church. The Conference set with closed doors. We learn however that the counsel for the accused—the Rev. W. A. Smith—contended against the power to try; first for the want of legal accusers, and second, because the defendant was absent under an appointment of the conference, as a chaplain in the Navy, and on a three years cruise to the Pacific.—The points raised were sustained in an able and elaborate argument. These positions were forcibly combatted by the prosecution; the Rev. Dr. Finly and the Rev. Geo. W. Carter, and the Bishop decided adversely to the first objection, but sustained the second; the case was therefore postponed, and the charges were afterwards withdrawn. The Chair presented the following communication from the Holston N. C. Conference:

"The Holston Conference memorializes the General Conference to enact a third restrictive rule to the effect:-That the boundaries of the Annual Conferences shall not be changed, except by the consent of the majority of the Annual Conferences to be affected by the change, or with the consent of the majority of the Delegates of said Conferences. They request the Bishop to present this proposition to the Conferences and ask their concurrence.

The resolution which follows was also presented by the Chair, and unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That the members of the Alabama Conference in Conference assembled, memorialize the General Conference of the M. E. Church South, to meet at Nashville, Tennessee, May, 1857, to expunge from the General Rules (of the Church) the following rule, to wit: "The buying and selling of men, women and children, with an intention to enslave them," and that the Bishop be requested to pass this resolution around to all the Conferences for their concurrence."

The remainder of the session was principally consumed in hearing the reports of committees and attending to the financial concerns of the Conference. After a vote of thanks to the people of Elizabeth City for their kindness; to their Baptist brethren for the tender of their church; to the Bishop for the impartial, dignified, and christian manner in which he had discharged the responsible duties of his position, and to the sexton for his diligence in attending to the wants of the members, the Conference adjourned. The appointments were than read, a portion of which we append.

'SLAVERY AGGRESSION'—This very convenient cant phrase answers, in a many instances, as a substitute for and argument. Those who use it perfectly aware that it is a mere word without the slightest foundation truth, or they are to be greatly pitied their ignorance.

What is this southern aggression—appalling slave power—about which northern fanatics rave with such insanity? Look at the facts; you will find the South has conceded almost as much territory—and voluntarily, too—to what is called 'freedom' as now constitutes the slaveholding States put together. Territory that by the organic law was slave territory the South has 'consecrated to freedom.' This is southern 'aggression'—this the 'encroachments of the slave power.'—Phil. Argus.

DIED,

At his residence, Sandy Point, in Chowan county, THOMAS BENBURY, in the 74th year of his age. We chronicle with regret, the death of one of the oldest and most respectable of the citizens of the county of Chowan—Thomas Benbury, Esq. Though the furrowed cheeks and silvery hair told strongly of the passage of time, the physical vigor of Mr. Benbury appeared comparatively unimpaired and his mind retained its strength and freshness in a remarkable degree. When we last saw him, it seemed as if there were many years allotted to him upon earth—but in a moment he has been stricken down, and an affectionate family and a large circle of friends left to mourn their sad loss.

'YOUNG AMERICA' CORN AND COB MILL,
MANUFACTURED BY
S. MARCH, Norfolk, Va.

THE above Mill, which so far surpassed all others last season, has been improved, and made stronger and better than ever, and is now in the field carrying everything before it. It is the mill for strength, durability and swiftness.

I annex a list of premiums it has received this season, over the 'Little Giant,' 'Magic Mill,' Star Mill, Maynard's Mill, and all others that have come into competition with it:

First premium at the N. York State Fair.
First premium at the Ohio State Fair.
First premium at the Michigan State Fair.
First premium at the N. Carolina State Fair.
First premium at the Nashville (Tenn.) Fair.
First premium at one County Fair in N. York.
First premium at ten County Fairs in Ohio.
Trial of corn and cob mills at the North Carolina State Fair, October 1856.

The following table will show the time occupied by each of the Mills on exhibition in grinding half bushel of corn and cobs:

Young America, 2 minutes and 40 seconds.
Little Giant, 4 " 55 "
Magic Mill, 6 "
Sinclair & Co's Mill, two trials, average time, 6 minutes and 58 seconds.

Advantages of the Young America or Excelsior Mill over all others: 1st, great strength and durability; 2d, simplicity, (having but one set screw to graduate the quality of grinding, which renders it so simple that it may be managed by any ordinary farm hand;) 3d, it will grind more corn, or corn and cob, in the same time, and of same quality, than any other mill in use of the same size; 4th, economy—that part of the mill which is most liable to wear, being separate from the main body of the machine, can be renewed when worn out, at the small cost of $3. Thus in the Young America or Excelsior mill, I present the best, cheapest and most durable mill ever offered to the Farmer. This mill is of large size and greater capacity than any other mill ever sold at the same price

Price, including extra plates, $50.

I am also manufacturing Cart and Wagon Wheels, Farm Wagons, Carts, Trucks, Drays, Plows, Harrows, Cultivators, Corn Shellers, and Agricultural Implements generally, and am better prepared to furnish farmers and merchants than any other house in the city.

Call and examine my stock and be convinced that it is to your interest to patronize Southern enterprize. I am unwilling to believe that all the men in Virginia and North Carolina prefer to build up the North and impoverish the South.

I have also a Foundry connected with my factory, and solicit orders for Castings generally.

BALTIMORE LOCK HOSPITAL.

DOCTOR JOHNSTON,

THE founder of this Celebrated Institution, offers the most certain, speedy, and only effectual remedy in the world for Gleets, Strictures, Seminal weakness, Pains in the Loins, Constitutional Debility, Impotency, Weakness of the Back and Limbs. Affections of the Kidneys, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Disease of the Head, Throat, Nose or Skin: and all those serious and melancholy Disorders arising from the destructive habits of Youth, which destroy both body and mind. These secret and solitary practices are more fatal to their victims than the song of the Syrens to the mariners Ulysses, blighting their most brilliant hopes of anticipations, rendering marriage, &c., impossible.

YOUNG MEN

especially, who have become the victims of Solitary Vice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellects, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senates with the thunders of eloquence, or waked to ecstacy the living lyre, may call with all confidence.

Marriage.

Married persons, or Young Men contemplating marriage, being aware of physical weakness, organic debility, deformities, &c., should immediately consult Dr. Johnston, and be restored to perfect health.

He who places himself under the care of Dr. Johnston, may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a Physician immediately cured and full vigor restored.

This disease is the penalty most frequently paid by those who have become the victims of improper indulgencies. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue.—Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the power of Procreation is lost sooner by those falling in to improper habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived of the pleasure of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged; the physical and mental powers weakened, nervous debility, dyspepsia, palpitation of the heart, indigestion, a wasting of the frame, cough, symptoms of consumption, &c.

OFFICE—No. 7, South Frederick Street, Seven Doors from Baltimore St., East side, up the steps. ☞ Be particular in observing the name and number, or you will mistake the place.

A Cure Warranted, or no Charge Made, in from One to Two Days.

NO MERCURY OR NAUSEOUS DRUGS USED.

DR. JOHNSTON,

Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, Graduate from one of the most eminent Colleges of the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the Hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia, and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known. Many troubled with ringing in the ears and head when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, and bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended, sometimes, with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

A Certain Disease.

When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame, or dread of discovery, deters him from applying to those who from education and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease make their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commiseration, till death puts a period to his dreadful sufferings, by sending him to 'that bourne from whence no traveler returns.' To such therefore Dr. Johnston pledges himself to preserve the most inviolable secrecy, and from his extensive practice in the first Hospitals of Europe and America, he can confidently recommend a safe and speedy cure to the unfortunate victim of this horrid disease.

It is a melancholy fact, that thousands fall victims to this dreadful disease, owing to the unskillfulness of ignorant pretenders, who, by the use of that dreadful poison, mercury, ruin the constitution, and either send the unfortunate sufferer to an untimely grave, or else make the residue of his life miserable.

Take Particular Notice!

Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgencies and solitary habits which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for either Business, Study, Society or Marriage.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz:—Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c.

MENTALLY.—The fearful effects upon the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, Confusion of ideas, Depression of Spirits, Forebodings of Evil, Aversion of Society, Self-distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, etc., are some of the evils produced.

Thousands of persons of all ages can now judge what is the cause of their declining health, Losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of consumption.

Dr. Johnston's Invigorating Remedy for Organic Weakness.

By this great and important remedy, weakness of the organs are speedily cured, and full vigor restored. Thousands of the most nervous and debilitated, who had lost all hope, have been immediately relieved. All Impediments to Marriage, Physical or Mental Disqualification

A RETIRED PHYSICIAN

Whose sands of life have nearly run out, discovered while in the East Indies, a certain cure for Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds and General Debility. The remedy was discovered by him when his only child, a daughter, was given up to die. He had heard much of the wonderful restorative and healing qualities of preparations made from the East India Hemp, and the thought occurred to him that he might make a remedy for his child. He studied hard and succeeded in realizing his wishes. His child was cured, and is now alive and well. He has since administered the wonderful remedy to thousands of sufferers in all parts of the world, and he has never failed in making them completely healthy and happy. Wishing to do as much good as possible, he will send to such of his afflicted fellow-beings as request it, this receipt, with full and explicit directions for making it up, and successfully using it. He requires each applicant to inclose him one shilling—three cents to be returned as postage on the receipe, and the remainder to be applied to the payment of this advertisement.

BALTIMORE LOCK HOSPITAL.

DOCTOR JOHNSTON,

THE founder of this Celebrated Institution, offers the most certain, speedy, and only effectual remedy in the world for Gleets, Strictures, Seminal weakness, Pains in the Loins, Constitutional Debility, Impotency, Weakness of the Back and Limbs. Affections of the Kidneys, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Disease of the Head, Throat, Nose or Skin; and all those serious and melancholy Disorders arising from the destructive habits of Youth, which destroy both body and mind. These secret and solitary practices are more fatal to their victims than the song of the Syrens to the mariners Ulysses, blighting their most brilliant hopes of anticipations, rendering marriage, &c., impossible.

YOUNG MEN

especially, who have become the victims of Solitary Vice, that dreadful and destructive habit, which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellects, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senates with the thunders of eloquence, or waked to ecstacy the living lyre, may call with all confidence.

Marriage.

Married persons, or Young Men contemplating marriage, being aware of physical weakness, organic debility, deformities, &c., should immediately consult Dr. Johnston, and be restored to perfect health.

He who places himself under the care of Dr. Johnston, may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a Physician.

Organic Weakness

immediately cured and full vigor restored.

This disease is the penalty most frequently paid by those who have become the victims of improper indulgencies. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue.—Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the power of Procreation is lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived of the pleasure of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms to both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged; the physical and mental powers weakened, nervous debility, dyspepsia, palpitation of the heart, indigestion, a wasting of the frame, cough, symptoms of consumption, &c.

OFFICE—No. 7, South Frederick Street, Seven Doors from Baltimore St., East side, up the steps. ☞ Be particular in observing the name and number, or you will mistake the place.

A Cure Warranted, or no Charge Made, in from One to Two Days.

NO MERCURY OR NAUSEOUS DRUGS USED.

DR. JOHNSTON,

Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, Graduate from one of the most eminent Colleges of the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the Hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia, and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known. Many troubled with ringing in the ears and head when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, and bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended, sometimes, with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

A Certain Disease.

When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame, or dread of discovery, deters him from applying to those who from education and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease make their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commiseration, till death puts a period to his dreadful sufferings, by sending him to 'that bourne from whence no traveler returns.' To such therefore Dr. Johnston pledges himself to preserve the most inviolable secrecy, and from his extensive practice in the first Hospitals of Europe and America, he can confidently recommend a safe and speedy cure to the unfortunate victim of this horrid disease.

It is a melancholy fact, that thousands fall victims to this dreadful disease, owing to the unskillfulness of ignorant pretenders, who, by the use of that dreadful poison, mercury, ruin the constitution, and either send the unfortunate sufferer to an untimely grave, or else make the residue of his life miserable.

Take Particular Notice!

Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgencies and solitary habits which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for either Business, Study, Society or Marriage.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz:—Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c.

MENTALLY.—The fearful effects upon the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, Confusion of ideas, Depression of Spirits, Forebodings of Evil, Aversion of Society, Self-Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, etc., are some of the evils produced.

Thousands of persons of all ages can now judge what is the cause of their declining health. Losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of consumption.

Dr. Johnston's Invigorating Remedy for Organic Weakness.

By this great and important remedy, weakness of the organs are speedily cured, and full vigor restored. Thousands of the most nervous and debilitated, who had lost all hope, have been immediately relieved. All Impediments to Marriage, Physical or Mental Disqualification, Nervous Irritability, Tremblings and Weakness, or exhaustion of the most fearful kind, speedily cured by Doctor Johnston.

Young Men,

Who have injured themselves by a Certain Practice, indulged in when alone—a habit frequently learned from evil companions, or at school—the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, and the darling of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyments of life, by the consequences of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in a certain secret habit. Such persons before contemplating should reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness. Indeed, without these, the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospects hourly darkens to the view; the mind becomes shadowed with despair and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with our own

Marriage,

To Strangers.

The many thousands cured at this institution within the last 16 years, and the numerous important Surgical operations performed by Dr. J. witnessed by the Reporters of the papers and many other persons, notices of which appeared again and again before the public, is a sufficient guarantee that the afflicted will find a skilful and honorable physician.

DR. JOHNSTON is the only regular Physician advertising to cure private complaints.—His remedies and treatment are entirely unknown to others. Prepared from a life spent in the great hospitals of Europe and the first in this country, viz: England, France, the Blockley of Philadelphia, &c., and a more extensive practice than any other Physician in the world His many wonderful cures and most important Surgical operations are a sufficient guarantee to the afflicted. Those who wish to be speedily and effectually relieved, should shun the numerous trifling impostors, who only ruin their health, and apply to him.

Take Notice.

☞ There are so many ignorant and worthless Quacks advertising themselves as Physicians, ruining the health of the already afflicted, that Dr. Johnston deems it necessary to say, especially to those unacquainted with his reputation, that his credentials or diplomas always hang in his office.

☞ No letters received unless post-paid, and containing a stamp to ascertain the reply.
